INSTITUT FÜR
LOGISTIK UND MATERIALFLUSSTECHNIK

The Otto von Guericke University's Institute of Logistics and Material Handling Systems (ILM) will host the 10th International Logistics Doctoral Student Workshop on June 20, 2017 in Magdeburg, Germany. For the 10th anniversary, it is a very special pleasure to register a record number of submitted papers. The event will take place with participants from countries like Cuba, France, Greece, Hungary, Latvia, Ukraine and Germany, who will present their research in the field of logistics. In total sixteen exciting presentations focusing thematic grouping as 'optimization and efficiency in logistics', 'supply chains and logistics networks' and 'innovation and trends in logistics' will be included within the workshop and discussed with each other by the participants.
